

From the Office of
Senator Hubert H. Humphrey
1313 New Senate Office Building
Washington 25, D. C.

Statement by Senator Hubert H. Humphrey on Mutual Broadcasting
"Capital Assignment," for release 8:40 p.m., Friday, June 15, 1962

"This brings me to a very interesting development. I don't think I have ever read it, but I gained this information from one of our officials who returned from India recently.

"At this very moment, the Soviets are engaged in bringing heavy artillery and munitions and supplies to the Indian forces on the Chinese Communist border with Soviet equipment. Here is the supposed ally -- China the ally of the Soviet Union -- and yet the Soviet Union is right now engaged in helicopter operations, massive airlift of machine guns, heavy artillery, light artillery and other important military equipment for the Indian Armed Forces that are resisting the aggression of Chinese Communist forces on the Indian border.

"Now you add that to what is developing here in Laos and where Khrushchev only recently sent a very cordial note to President Kennedy. All of this tells me that the Soviet Union looks with deep concern, great concern, upon the aggression of the Chinese Communists and is watching very carefully and trying to put a brake on it."
