

"The Globe"

May 29, 1901

Elmer A. Adams to W. C. Toomey.

"Some years ago Mr Hill recommended me to Mr. Crawford Livingston as Business Manager of the Globe and at his request I went to St. Paul to confer with him. I did not examine the assets but in my conversation with Mr Pyle I asked him if the Globe had ever paid its way and he replied that the nearest that it ever came to paying was one month when it lost only $3000."
