

Railway Bill

July 27, 1886

J.S. Kennedy to Hill

Carnegie's price for steel rails is too high. Pres. Cleveland's veto of the Railway Bill [for allowing railroad construction across Dakota Indian reservations?] in northern Montana was made under a misapprehension.

General Correspondence by Date