Beckles Willson to Hill,

"Canon H. Kittson ... informs me that some of Mr. [D. A.]Smith's correspondence must be in the Archives of the Red River Navigation Company ... The officials of Mr.Hill's office would know where those papers are at present.I remember seeing boxes of them piled up in my father's office." Canon had five years of clerical work in St. Paul." ' The great syndicate were then putting the finishing touches to their scheme,as I remember going to the office where the members were gatherd and 'touching' them on behalf of some church scheme of my own.I must acknowledge that they were generous.'".
