

Washburn, William Drew

January 24, 1890

Washburn to JJH, General Correspondence

"I think I shall be glad to avail myself of your kind assent to the extension of the loan made to me, as indicated when we last met in New York." Discusses details. "Confidentially, what are the prospects of the deals in which Sir Geo. and Sir Donald are so much interested? I hope to see these great properties operated as one system."
