

JASON C. EASTON:

An Inventory of His Papers at the Minnesota Historical Society

RESTRICTED, In Part

Easton, Jason Clark (1823-1901). Papers, 1849-1941

221 cubic feet (164 boxes, including 635 volumes).

Business and personal papers of Easton, a banker who owned or held stock in banks at Chatfield, Lanesboro, Preston, and other towns in southern Minnesota, and was a pioneer of modern banking practices in the area. The bulk of the collection covers the period between 1870 and 1941, and is especially concentrated in the 1870s-1890s.

There are extensive correspondence files and long run of letterpress books for the banks at Chatfield (Root River State Bank and First State Bank of Chatfield) and at Lanesboro, as well as ledgers, journals, registers, balance sheets, bills and receipts, statements, accounts, and other financial records of these and—to a lesser extend – other banks in the area.

Data on Easton's real estate holdings and his banks' real estate transactions include deeds and mortgages of various types; records of land transactions arranged by counties; leases; lists of delinquent tax land, and tax receipts. There are land and loan records, correspondence, accounts and legal papers of several land speculation and mortgage companies, including the Dundee Mortgage and Trust Investment Company, the Edinburgh American Land Mortgage Company, the Scottish American Land Mortgage Company, the Southern Minnesota Land Association, the West India Improvement Company, and Jesup, Paton and Company.

Easton's private correspondence after his removal to La Crosse, Wisconsin, in 1883, concerns his interest in agriculture livestock breeding; trade in wheat and other commodities; a variety of personal business enterprises, partnerships, and investments; and La Crosse civic and commercial affairs. Bank and land company records continue in great quantity.

Also among the papers are Easton's personal accounts, bills, and receipts (1849-ca.1900); personal letter books; records of and about the Southern Minnesota Railroad Company and other southern Minnesota and Wisconsin railroads; express, insurance, land, tax, loan, and mortgage accounts of Easton and others; and record books of George H. Haven, Chatfield merchant and close associate of Easton.

Accession Numbers: 3761; 6168; 6563

RESTRICTIONS

George A. Haven, Root River State Bank, to Arthur J. Larsen, Jan. 25, 1947:

“As a bank’s relationship with its client is of a very confidential nature, these records are deposited with you with the understanding... that they are not to be disclosed to anyone outside of your office ... without our specific consent. This stipulation shall apply to all of the bank records and documents ... until January 1, 1957, after which the items dated fifty years or more previous may be released for examination and study, but never for direct publication in Chatfield and vicinity. The same stipulation should apply to the books from the First National Bank of Chatfield ...”

Haven to Russell F. Barnes, Feb. 17, 1947:

“... when and if this material is used for publication after fifty years from its date and after January 1, 1957, names of individuals and organizations shall not be made public.

“After one hundred years from the date of any record, all restrictions may be dropped regarding it.”

CONTAINER/VOLUME LIST.

The list that follows contains several gaps in volume numbers. When the Easton Papers were re-evaluated and reboxed in 1976, a number of volumes judged to be duplicates or to contain little usable or relevant information were discarded. The remaining volumes were not renumbered.

A complete list of the volumes originally included with the Easton Papers is in the accessions file.
