ADMINISTRATIVE HISTORY OF THE ALEXANDRIA LAND DISTRICT

The Alexandria Land District was created out of the western part of the St. Cloud Land District by an act of Congress of July 25, 1868. The first land office was located in Alexandria and opened for business in November, 1868. The boundaries of the Alexandria Land District changed several times. All ranges are west of the 5th principal meridian.

By the act of 1868 the Alexandria district encompassed townships 121-164 in ranges 36-51.

An executive order of August 28, 1871, removed townships 121-124 in ranges 36-49 from the Alexandria district and added them to the Minneapolis district.

An act of March 12, 1872, created the Oak Lake (Crookston) land district out of the northern part of the Alexandria district. The reduced Alexandria district consisted of townships 125-136 in ranges 36-49.

On February 28, 1889, the Fergus Falls land office was closed and the Alexandria district was merged into the St. Cloud district.

Correspondence: Letters Received from GLO, 1868-1889. 4.0 cu. ft. (4 boxes).

Letters received by the register and receiver of the Alexandria land district from the commissioner of the General Land Office. They include letters of transmission and acknowledgment, instructions to the register and receiver, decisions of the land commissioner and secretary of the interior in contested cases, and notices of approval or rejection of land entries.

The letters forwarding decisions of the commissioner and the secretary of the interior contain the most significant information. They generally include a summary of the facts in the case, giving information on the date of settlement and entry, improvements made on the claim, and biographical information on the contestants and witnesses. Some of these letters include transcripts of testimony and affidavits relating to the case.

Among the subjects discussed in the other letters are preemption, homestead, timber culture, military bounty land warrant, and cash entries; railroad land grants; public land sales; and the general operation of the land office.

Arrangement: Arranged chronologically.

Related materials: The General Land Office's Original Entry Tract Books (cataloged separately) include citations, by date sent, to letters received from the commissioner of the GLO regarding specific parcels of land.

Correspondence: Register's Letters Sent, 1869-1881. 0.6 cu. ft. (4 volumes).

An incomplete set of handwritten and letterpress copies of outgoing letters of the register of the Alexandria land district, arranged chronologically. They are written primarily to the commissioner of the General Land Office, with some additional letters to federal and state officials and private citizens. Some letters of the receivers are included.

Letters to the GLO fall into two broad categories: routine interoffice communications and letters relating to imperfect or contested entries. The routine administrative correspondence includes letters of transmittal and acknowledgment, monthly and quarterly reports of entries made, record of patents delivered, requests for record books and forms, inquiries on procedural matters, and general commentary on the operation of the land office.

The letters relating to contested entries include reports of the decisions of the register and receiver, accompanied by summaries of the facts and witnesses' testimony for those cases that were appealed to the commissioner of the GLO. In addition to naming the rival claimants and giving the legal description of the contested parcel, these letters often cite the date of settlement and entry, describe the improvements made—sometimes in great detail—and give biographical information on the contestants and witnesses in the case.

The letters concerning imperfect entries are usually responses to requests from the commissioner for additional information needed to approve an entry. This most often relates to the entryman's naturalization, change in name, witnesses' testimony, or procedural matters.

The series includes occasional letters to registers of other land offices and to the U.S. Surveyor General, and a few letters to the Minnesota governor or state land commissioner relating to state land grants.

Letters to private individuals consist primarily of notices of hearings set, appeals forwarded, or decisions rendered in contested cases; requests for additional information or testimony; and procedural instructions necessary to perfect an entry.

Among the topics covered in the letters sent are: homestead and preemption claims, military bounty land warrant entries, railroad land grants, Sioux half-breed scrip entries, townsite locations, public land sales, and state land grants.

Register of Homestead Entries, 1863-1889. 2 volumes.

An abstract of all applications to acquire land under the provisions of the Homestead Act of 1862 that were filed in the Alexandria land district.

Individuals seeking to acquire land under the Homestead Act first filed an application or "declaratory statement" with the local land office, thereby establishing their claim to a particular tract of land. They were then required to live on and improve the land for five years, after which time they presented the local land office a "final proof" of their compliance with the provision of the Homestead Act. If the land office accepted the proof, it issued a "final certificate." The final certificate was then turned in to the General Land Office, which issued a patent formally transferring title to the homesteader.

The abstract for each homestead entry includes the following information: number of the application or declaratory statement; date of application; name of the applicant; legal description of the parcel entered; and remarks on the issuance of a patent, cancellation, or other disposition of the entry, with citations to relevant letters from the commissioner of the General Land Office.

Arrangement: By chronologically assigned application (entry) number.

Register of Military Bounty Land Warrant Entries, 1869-1888. 0.4 cu. ft. (3 volumes).

Registers or abstracts of public land entries made with military bounty land warrants in the Alexandria land district.

Under acts of 1842, 1847, 1850, 1852, and 1855, Congress authorized the issuance of land warrants as a bounty for military service. The warrants entitled the holder to enter or "locate" a specified amount of public land. The warrants were transferable and most were entered by someone other than the person to whom they were originally issued.

The abstract for each warrant entry includes the land office entry number, warrant number, date the warrant was issued, person in whose favor the warrant was issued, legal description of the tract located with the warrant, date located, and by whom located.

Some entries are annotated with citations to decisions of the commissioner of the General Land Office.

Arrangement: By warrant type, thereunder chronological by date of land office entry.

Register of Timber Culture Entries, 1873-1889 Feb. partial volume.

An abstract of land entries (nos. 1-1887) made in the Alexandria and St. Cloud land districts under provisions of the Timber Culture Act of March 3, 1873.

The intent of the Timber Culture Act was to encourage the planting of trees on the western prairies. The law enabled qualified individuals to acquire title to 160 acres of land on the condition that forty acres be planted to trees. Residence on the tract was not required. In the original act the entryman was required to plant the entire 40 acres to trees in the first year after making entry. The time period was later extended to four years, and in 1878 the acreage was reduced to ten acres with a minimum of 2700 trees per acre at the time of planting and "675 living, thrifty trees" at the time of patenting. Timber culture entries could be "proved up" and patented after eight years. They could be made in addition to homestead or preemption entries. The Timber Culture Act was repealed in 1891.

The abstract for each timber culture entry includes the following information: application or entry number, date of application, legal description of the tract entered, acreage, name of the applicant and county of residence, and fees and commissions paid. Some entries include information on the date of final proof and the eventual disposition of the entry, with citations to letters from the commissioner of the General Land Office, to the Contest Docket, and to final certificate numbers.

Entries made after March 1, 1889, are from the St. Cloud land district, into which the Alexandria district was merged in February, 1889.

Arrangement: Chronological by date of application.
