SCOPE AND CONTENTS OF THE RECORDS

The microfilmed and original assessment rolls for Washington County (Minn.) record the value of real and personal property located in each of its civil subdivisions (legally incorporated townships, villages, and cities) for the years 1856-1901 and subsequent sample years 1910-1911, 1920-1921, 1930-1931, 1940-1941, 1950-1951, and 1960-1961. The assessment rolls for 1856 also include information on taxes levied and paid. There are no records for the years 1857-1859 and 1867-1869, and only a few for 1960-1961.

The records are organized into four sections. The content of each section reflects the order in which the volumes were received and microfilmed by the Minnesota Historical Society. Volumes for 1856-1951 are reproduced on three separately numbered sets of microfilm. The first set (SAM 5, reels 1-23) contains volumes for the years 1870-1900. The second set (SAM 6, reels 1-22) comprises volumes for 1901 and the sample years 1910, 1940-1941, and 1950-1951. The third set (SAM 363, reels 1-56) reproduces volumes for the years 1856-1901 and 1910-1931, which both precede and interfile with those in the first two sets. The six volumes in the fourth section, which were not microfilmed and are housed in one box, are for the years 1911 and 1960-1961. Those for 1911 interfile with the microfilmed volumes for that year.

Within each section, the assessment rolls are arranged chronologically by single year (1856-1951) or two-year period (1960-1961). There are no real or personal property assessment rolls for the years 1857-1859 and 1867-1869. There also are no real and/or personal property rolls for some jurisdictions for some other years for several reasons: the jurisdictions were not yet officially organized; no data were recorded; some volumes were so badly damaged by water and mold that the information in them was illegible and, thus, were not microfilmed or retained; or the records were either missing, no longer extant, or had not been received by the Minnesota Historical Society (as of 2000).

Within each single year the assessment rolls are arranged by assessment district (1856); by property type and thereunder by civil subdivision, one volume for each type of property (1860); or alphabetically by civil subdivision and thereunder by property type, one jurisdiction per volume (1861-1951). Within each two-year period they are arranged alphabetically by civil subdivision, thereunder by single year, and within each year by property type.

Information on both real and personal property for the year 1856 is recorded on a single, combined form that also functions as a tax list by providing information on taxes levied and paid. Beginning in 1860 assessment information only for real and personal property appear on different forms in separate sections of the same volume or in separate volumes. Real property entries generally are listed in alphabetical order by property owner's surname and given name during the years 1860-1873; beginning in 1874 they generally are arranged geographically (in townships by section, township, and range; in villages or cities and in each of their additions by lot and block). Personal property entries generally are listed in a single alphabetical sequence by the surname(s) and given name(s) of the property owner(s) in all years. From 1860 to 1883 real property data generally precede personal property data in even-numbered years, while personal property data generally precede real property data in odd-numbered years. Beginning in 1884 information on real property generally precedes information on personal property in all years.

Prior to 1860 both real and personal property apparently were assessed every year. Beginning in 1860 all taxable real property normally was assessed only during even-numbered years. In odd-numbered years it was assessed only on property for which there had been an increase or decrease in its previously assessed value due to the construction, destruction, or removal of buildings or other structures; on property that had become subject to taxation subsequent to the last previous assessment or that had been omitted from the assessment rolls of previous years; and, beginning in 1941, on property that had become or ceased to be a homestead since the last assessment. There are separate forms for these properties in some volumes. Personal property was assessed every year.

Information contained in the assessment rolls may vary somewhat from year to year and from civil subdivision to civil subdivision for a particular year. Categories of real and personal property changed over time in accordance with changes in the tax laws.

Each entry in the combined real and personal property assessment roll/tax list gives some or all of the following information: the name of the property owner; the legal description (location) of the property (lands or lots); the number of acres or lots owned and the value per acre or lot; the total value of all property; the total amount of taxes levied; and an indication of payment.

Each entry in the real property assessment rolls includes some or all of the following information: the name(s) of the property owner(s); the school district number; the legal description (location) of the property (lands or lots); the total number of acres of land, the number and value of improved and unimproved acres, and the land's "natural conditions" (1910-1921); whether or not the property is a homestead (beginning in 1940) and agricultural (beginning in 1950); the type of property (beginning in 1960); the full values of lands or lots exclusive of structures and other improvements, structures and improvements exclusive of land, machinery permanently attached to real estate, and their total full valuation; the assessed values of lands or lots exclusive of structures and other improvements and of structures and improvements exclusive of land or (beginning in 1940) the assessed values of various classes of rural/agricultural and non-rural/non-agricultural homesteads and non-homesteads, machinery permanently attached to real estate, and seasonal and recreational property; and the total assessed valuation of all real property as returned by the assessor, left/changed/equalized by the local board of review, and equalized by the county board and the state board/tax commission(er)/department of taxation.

Each entry in the personal property assessment rolls includes some or all of the following information: the name(s) of the property owner(s); the post office address; the school district number; an indication of whether the property is a household; the final total (equalized) value of all taxable personal property; the total assessed value of all taxable personal property as equalized by the state board/tax commission(er)/department of taxation and the county board, as left/changed/equalized by the local board of review, and as returned by the assessor; and the quantity and/or assessed valuations of various classes of personal property and their total assessed and full values, including: household goods and furnishings; personal possessions used for personal and domestic purposes; transportation vehicles; agricultural livestock and other animals, products, tools and implements, machinery, and supplies; manufacturing and business products, merchandise, equipment and machinery, materials and supplies, and furnishings; moneys and credits, stocks and bonds, and other financial investments and assets; structures and other improvements not owned by railways on railway lands; privately owned structures and improvements on federal government lands or on lands leased from the state; boats and other watercraft; street railway cars; transmission and distribution systems of street railways and utility companies; billboards and other advertising devices; and all other taxable personal property not included in the previous categories.

In addition to the information detailed above, the assessment rolls for some years may include a list of mortgages and other real estate instruments or securities securing indebtedness and representing credits that were held, owned, or controlled by residents of the civil subdivision or district on record in the register of deeds office; the assessor's report on tree bounty; and data on real property exempt from taxation, lands taken under the Homestead and Tree Claim acts, and grain received in or handled by elevators, warehouses, and mills.

There are tabular statements or summaries (recapitulations) of the real and/or personal property data for many of the assessment rolls.

The majority of the original assessment rolls that were microfilmed were legible and in good physical condition. However, some volumes were damaged by water and mold; some pages were torn and dirty; some data may have been obliterated by ink stains; and some pages may have exhibited poor contrast between the color of the text and the color of the paper, making them difficult to photograph. As a result of these conditions, some information may have been lost and some text may be difficult to read or illegible on the microfilm.

Introductory "flash" targets identify the years and precede each volume on the microfilm. A running target beneath each film frame gives the title and publisher of the microfilm and the frame number.

Blank pages of the records have not been filmed.
