

BLACKOUT - THE SENATE RESTAURANT
by les kramer

MANAGER Campbell
WAITER #1 Bergen
WAITER #2 Hertz
WAITER #3 Gautier
WAITER #4 Cherry

SCENE: Office of manager of Senate Restaurant in Capitol.
FOUR WAITERS are discovered. MANAGER enters L.
with orders, takes seat at desk.

MANAGER: All right, men. At ease! Now here this! There have been a few complaints about service from our statesmen bosses, so I'm going to go over the standing routine orders once again. Ready?

ALL: READY!

MANAGER: Okay - Number one - you, Bergen. Stop worrying about Senator Williams of Delaware. He doesn't come here to eat - all he wants to do is keep an eye on the cashier. Tell Senator Fulbright to stay out of the kitchen; it's not his job to pass on the qualifications of the chef to handle his duties. Set up a table for Senator Humphrey - he MIGHT be in town. Got it?

#1: Got it!

MANAGER: Okay - dismiss!

#1: (SALUTES, EXITS LEFT)

MANAGER: Next - Number two - you, Ross. I've had some complaints about you. One of them is from Senator Bridges -

#2: I'm sorry, sir. From now on, if Senator Bridges wants maple syrup in his beef stew, he's gonna GET maple syrup in his beef stew.

MANAGER: And how about serving Senator Eastland?

#2: No more glasses or china mugs. From now on every drink ordered by Senator Eastland will be served in a Dixie cup!

MANAGER: That's it. And how are you going to serve Senator Proxmire?

#2: As far as possible from Senator Lyndon Johnson!

MANAGER: We understand each other. That's all. Dismiss!

#2: (SALUTES, EXITS L.)

MANAGER: Next - number three - that's you, Gautier. I asked you to find out if any of our Senators have a particular preference for some special dish. Well, what's the report? What's the favorite dish of Senator Wayne Morse?

#3: Rhubarb.

MANAGER: Okay - and the favorite dish of Senator Russell?

#3: Pot likker, turnip greens, fatback and molasses - what he calls "the New England Boiled Dinner - as amended."

MANAGER: Okay - and the favorite dish of Senator Kennedy?

#3: A heaping plate of cole slaw and sauerkraut.

MANAGER: Are you sure? Why does Senator Kennedy order nothing but heaping plates of cole slaw and sauerkraut?

#3: Profiles in cabbage!

MANAGER: Thank you and - dismiss!

#3: (SALUTES, EXITS L.)

MANAGER: Now for Number four - that's you, Cherry. I'm afraid you're slipping. I've had a letter from Senator Kerr of Oklahoma -

#4: I apologize for serving Senator Kerr a salad made with olive oil instead of petroleum.

MANAGER: All right, but I've had a letter from Senator Byrd -

#4: I apologize for serving Senator Byrd a drink of Scotch instead of apple brandy.

MANAGER: That was bad enough - but if you had to pick Scotch, why the hell did you offer Senator Byrd black and white?

#4: I'm sorry, sir.

MANAGER: Watch it. And still another letter - this one from Senator Clinton Anderson. He complains about the way you serve his iced tea.

#4: Iced tea? What's wrong with the way I served his iced tea?

MANAGER: Never - NEVER - serve Clinton Anderson anything with straws!

#4: I apologize to him, too.

MANAGER: Look, old timer, I don't enjoy bringing up these letters of complaint, but - well, it's my job. You understand.

#4: Yes, sir, of course I understand.

MANAGER: And, after all, it IS quite an honor to serve a Senator. They are very important men!

#4: Aaah! I've seen them all! There's only one Senator who will ever amount to a good gah dam!

MANAGER: Humphrey?

#4: Humphrey, my arse! KILLIBREW!

BLACKOUT

6/18/59 CSSCA WASH. HUMPHREY

SINGLE BIT - THE WRONG HUMPHREY
by les kramer

CITIZEN Don Gautier

ROUTINE: CITIZEN enters on direct intro. by Kramer.

KRAMER: Blah - blah - blah - won't you come in please, sir, and state your cause of complaint?

CITIZEN: This affair is a swindle! I've been gypped out of ten bucks! I bought a ticket to a luncheon for Humphrey and he doesn't even show up!

KRAMER: But/ Mr. Humphrey is sitting right up here!

CITIZEN: Don't try to hand me that! He's not here at all! I know Humphrey when I see him. I used to see him all the time when he was Secretary of the Treasury!

KRAMER: You're thinking of GEORGE Humphrey. This is HUBERT Humphrey.

CITIZEN: HUBERT Humphrey? Who the hell is HUBERT Humphrey?

KRAMER: Right now he's a Senator, and next year he might be elected President of the United States.

CITIZEN: He's a Senator - and he wants to run for President? Oh, sure, I've heard of him. Brilliant speaker - smart politician - fine personality - he's make a wonderful President!

KRAMER: Thank you.

CITIZEN: Yeah - and his kid brother is doing a helluva job for Senator McClellan's committee!

TROOPER BIT - ENTRANCE OF WALL GUY

by les kramer

TROOPER Jim Campbell

ROUTINE:

TROOPER marches in with parade at Entrance of Fall Guy, follows him up to speaker's table, stands at r. of table at top of stairs waiting for intro.

KRAMER:

..... and while we're greeting the Senator, how about a hand for his bodyguard, Sgt. Campbell of the Minnesota State Police!

AUDIENCE:

APPLAUSE

TROOPER:

(SALUTES AUDIENCE)

KRAMER:

Sergeant, how does it feel to be an escort to a famous man such as Senator Humphrey?

TROOPER:

I'm sorry, I didn't get what you were saying.

KRAMER:

I said: HOW DOES IT FEEL TO BE AN ESCORT TO A FAMOUS MAN SUCH AS SENATOR HUMPHREY?

TROOPER:

You'll have to speak a little louder. I can't hear a word you're saying.

KRAMER:

What's the matter with you - are you deaf?

TROOPER:

Oh, sure - dear as a doornail! That's why I was assigned to this detail.

KRAMER:

But why did your chief pick a man as escort to Senator Humphrey who ~~wasn't~~ is stone deaf?

TROOPER:

Brother, I have to be with this character 24 hours a day and he keeps coming in for 24 hours a day and if I had to listen to him for 24 hours a day, I'd have to listen to him for 24 hours a day. There's a dozen men in the Army who got the Congressional Medal of Honor for a helluva lot less than that!

(SALUTES, EXITS)

BLACKOUT - THE SENATOR'S STAFF

by les kramer

SENATOR Nordstrom
REPORTER Dillon
AIDE #1 Tomkins
AIDE #2 Cherry
AIDE #3 Evans
WORKER Bergen

SCENE: Desk, chair, American flag at C. Three chairs at L. for AIDES. Chair at R. of desk for VISITOR. All are discovered. VISITOR and SENATOR are at desk; AIDES reading comics, filing nails, killing time, doing nothing. WORKER running around with containers of coffee, newspapers, shining shoes, busy as hell and doing all the work.

SENATOR: Yes, my friend, a Senator cannot function without the help of his staff. Letters have to be written and answered, visitors have to be entertained, research work has to be done - it takes a very large and very efficient staff to accomplish all these things.

REPORTER: I grant you that, Senator. And is this your staff?

SENATOR: Yes, this is my staff.

REPORTER: But Senator - everybody is loafing, just sitting around killing time - nobody seems to be doing any work except that little guy. It doesn't seem fair that they should do nothing and he has to do all the work!

SENATOR: It's his own goddam fault. That little bastard is the only one of the bunch who is NOT related to me!

SCENE: Three chairs at C. Stand mike at L. and at C.
NUT #1 has paper dolls to cut out; #2 in straitjacket;
#3 no props. All are discovered.

VISITOR: Could you tell me something about the background of these unfortunate gentlemen?

KEEPER: This is our top-secret upper-echelon department. Now, take this guy cutting out the paper dolls -

VISITOR: What about him?

KEEPER: He's the man who designed our new Senate Office Building Now, take that guy in the middle -

VISITOR: What about him?

KEEPER: He's the man at the Pentagon who figures out how much money to ask for what branch of the service for which guided missile Now, take the guy on the end -

NUT #3: (PACES UP AND DOWN) Oh, that woman - that Clare Boothe Luce - I can't stand that woman - oh, that terrible woman - that terrible Clare Boothe Luce!

VISITOR: What's the trouble with HIM?

BLACKOUT - THE SENATE IN ACTION
by les kramer

V.P. NIXON Tomkins
HUMPHREY Nordstrom
KENNEDY Dillon
MORSE Gautier
KEFAUVER Campbell
PASTORE Bergen
REPUBLICAN #1 Evans
REPUBLICAN #2 Cherry

SCENE: Supposed to be Senate Chamber. Desk and chair at C. for Nixon. American flag on stand at R. of desk. Set up 5 chairs at R. of desk for Democrats, 2 chairs at L. of desk for two Republicans. ALL DISCOVERED EXCEPT KEFAUVER.

NIXON: All right, boys, let's start the session. The chaplain of the Senate will offer the customary prayer.
 Where is the chaplain?

EVANS: He just left.

NIXON: He just left? He's supposed to pray for us!

EVANS: He took one look at those Democrats - and went out to pray for the country.

NIXON: Okay - we'll start today without the usual prayer.
 Anybody want to say something?

EVANS: (TO CHERRY) I'll bet you a quart of Scotch to a plate of pea soup that Humphrey is going to shoot off his mouth.

CHERRY: That's a sucker bet! He's getting up now!

HUMPHREY: Mr. President!

NIXON: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Rhode Island,
 Mr. Pastore.

BERGEN: (DOUBLETALK UNTIL STOPPED)

NIXON: Thank you, Senator Pastore!

BERGEN: I'm not through yet!

NIXON: That's what YOU think! Okay, the floor is open.
 Who's next?

HUMPHREY: Mr. President!

NIXON: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Oregon, Mr. Morse.

MORSE: Mr. President, I would like to ask that I be given the floor of the Senate by unanimous consent, at the opening of the session tomorrow, for the purpose of submitting the resignation of my distinguished colleague, the junior Senator from Oregon, Mr. Neuberger.

NIXON: All those in favor of giving Senator Morse the floor tomorrow, so that he may submit the resignation of Senator Neuberger, please say "AYE!"

ALL: AYE!

NIXON: The motion is carried.

MORSE: (RUBBING HANDS) Well - that takes care of the FIRST half of that job!

NIXON: Okay - the floor is open. Who's next?

HUMPHREY: Mr. President!

NIXON: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Massachusetts, Mr. Kennedy.

KENNEDY: Mr. President, I have been going up and down the length and breadth of this country, and I want to say to you, and to my fellow Senators, that everybody I have spoken to has agreed with me one hundred percent. What this nation wants, more than anything else, is me in the White House!

NIXON: Now that's a coincidence! They've been saying the same thing about me!

CHERRY: Do you think Nixon will get the nomination? He does a damn' good job of handshaking.

EVANS: (TO CHERRY) Rockefeller does a better job. When he shakes hands with you, he gives you a dime!

NIXON: Just think of it, gentlemen! The next President of the United States is right here in this room!

EVANS: Not yet, but he will be in one minute. Here comes the next President of the United States right now!

KEFAUVER: (ENTERS, WEARING GLASSES & COONSKIN CAP. SHAKES HANDS WITH EVERYBODY, THEN SITS DOWN)

NIXON: Okay - the floor is open. Who's next?

HUMPHREY: Mr. President!

NIXON: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Tennessee, Mr. Kefauver.

KEFAUVER: (RISES, SHAKES HANDS WITH EVERYBODY, EXITS)

NIXON: (AFTER KEFAUVER EXIT) Okay - the floor is open. Who's next?

HUMPHREY: Mr. President!

NIXON: (TO CHERRY AND EVANS) Come on, fellers - give me a break! Ask for the floor!

CHERRY: (THUMBS DOWN)

EVANS: (THUMBS DOWN)

NIXON: This is sabotage! ... Oh, all right. The Chair recognizes the Senator from Minnesota, Mr. Humphrey.

HUMPHREY: Mr. President, before I speak, I would like to make a few remarks. As I travel up and down the length and breadth of this great country ---

ALL: (EXCEPT NIXON) RISE, EXIT QUICKLY TO LEFT)

HUMPHREY: This is outrageous! They all walked out on my speech!

NIXON: I'd walk out of here myself, but I'm afraid to.

HUMPHREY: What are YOU afraid of?

NIXON: The minute I got out of this chair - that goddam MILTON EISENHOWER WOULD MOVE IN!

LEAD-IN TO MUSICAL "CAMPAIGN MANAGERS"

by les kramer

HUMPHREY Nordstrom
#1 Dillon
#2 Hertz
#3 Tomkins

SCENE: Same office set-up as in "Senator's Staff" blackout except strike chair at R. of desk. All are discovered.

HUMPHREY: Campaign managers! You dare to call yourselves campaign managers! Well, you're doing a fine job of lousing up MY campaign!

#1: What do you mean, boss? We're doing a terrific job for you! Look at all those wonderful speeches we wrote!

HUMPHREY: Yes - just look at them! I'm paying for this stuff - and you're giving my competitors all the breaks!

#1: But boss -

HUMPHREY: You wrote this speech, didn't you? Who did you write it for - me or Kennedy? Listen - QUOTE - MY CAREER HAS BEEN A PROFILE IN COURAGE - END QUOTE.

#2: But boss - we're only trying to steal the other guy's thunder.

HUMPHREY: That's petty larceny! Now take this speech - you wrote this one, didn't you?
Are you working for Humphrey or for Symington? Listen - QUOTE - THE AMERICAN PEOPLE DO NOT WANT A CANDIDATE WHO WILL SWALLOW ANYTHING. THEY WANT A MAN WHO WILL SAY - "I AM FROM MISSOURI!"

#3: But boss - that's just an expression.

HUMPHREY: And I'm making an expression of my disapproval. Here's another speech - you wrote this one, didn't you? How long have you been on Lyndon Johnson's payroll? Listen - QUOTE - MY RECORD IN THE SENATE SHOWS AN ABILITY FOR LEADERSHIP AND FOR COMPROMISE AS BIG AS THE STATE OF TEXAS ITSELF!"

#1: But boss -

HUMPHREY: But - nothing! Either you three characters start selling Hubert Humphrey - and stop trying to sneak in plugs for the other candidates - or I'll fire the whole goddam lot of you - and you can go back to your former business of selling razor blades and rubber goods!

#2: Sir, I resent that remark. I never sold razor blades!

HUMPHREY: I accept your apology. Now get to work and turn out some speeches I can use. I've got to be on the floor of the Senate in five minutes for debate on a matter of the most vital importance!

#3: What's up, boss? Housing? National defense? Labor regulation? Agricultural surplus?

HUMPHREY: We have tabled all that small stuff. Today my colleague from Maine, Senator Margaret Smith, is on the warpath again. Do you know what's going to happen? Listen:

(SINGS - "Sweet Rosie O'Grady")

Sweet Rosie O'Donnell -
Our Maggie is sore -
Now you can say - fare - well -
To star number four!
Soon you'll be in action -
You're due to catch hell -
She's after Rosie O'Donnell -
And poor Jimmy Stewart as well!

(EXITS AFTER SONG)

#1: Well, now that Hubert has gone off to play statesman, I'd like to say what I REALLY think about his chances of getting the nomination next year.

#2: So would I.

#3: Count me in.
