FOR RELEASE: SATURDAY A.M., March 5, 1960

Remarks of Senator Hubert H. Humphrey before the KANSAS STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION Hutchinson, Kansas, March 4,1960

"We are meeting tonight in the eighth year of the Ike Age -- the year of the ongest Cadillac.

"When the historians get around to writing about the past seven years, I wonder nat they will call it. It certainly isn't a square deal, a fair deal or a new deal.

"My guess is that they'll borrow a phrase from our teen-agers, and call it the Deal.

"If you're big enough, this is the Administration for you. If you're a millionre, you can sit in the Cabinet or even play golf with the President at Augusta.

"The biggest of the big dealers have been our two Secretaries of the Treasury, sorge 'Trickle-down' Humphrey and Robert 'Guard our Gold' Anderson.

"Two generations ago William Jennings Bryan warned us not to crucify mankind on cross of gold. Humphrey and Anderson have sacrificed America's welfare to the olden calf of a balanced budget.

"They have neglected our old people, our young people, our jobless and despairing orkers marooned in economically depressed areas.

"They have convinced our business-minded press that four million unemployed is just normal good business.

"That's the kind of "normalcy' Cal Coolidge wanted us to crawl back into.

"It just won't do when we're in a no-holds-barred contest with the hard-driving, purposeful Soviet economy.

"This neglect they have compounded with waste -- waste of the fabulous productive capacity of our economy.

"They don't like a healthy, bounding economy. Every time it shows signs of growing at the old-fashioned Democratic rate, they take down the fire-extinguisher and douse it with tight-money, high-interest policies.

"Yes, they're a lot of Big Dealers who sit down with Ike in the White House. They deal out fat favors to the fat-dropping friends.

"But they need 'No Dealers" as well, and the high priest of the 'No Deal' is non other than Ezra Benson.

"When Republicans are campaigning out here on the plains, they like to pretend that Benson is the little man who isn't there.

"'He isn't there again today,' they assure us, and then they mutter under their breath: 'I wish that man would go away.'

"But he's still there -- as the farmers of America know to their cost.

"We've had farm programs that called for crops being plowed under. But this is one that's aimed at plowing farmers under -- and particularly farm families!

"Benson's policies have brought us to the point where farmers and their children feel that there is no hope for them on the land.

"They have paved the way for the seizure of America's vast acres of agricultural land by c orporate interests, by corporate powers.

"Our people are being softened up for this 'Big Grab' by the Madison Avenue boys who control the channels of communication. That is why every other slick magazine you pick up has another article that makes the farmer the whipping boy for wasteful, eroding farm policies.

-2- Hutchinson, Kansas

"And these GOP 'Garbled Old Policies' have not really helped the cities. The arm youngsters driven off the land go to the cities and find no jobs or homes for them there.

"There has been no program to prepare the cities for the people or the people or the cities. GoP farm policies are matched by their bankrupt policies in regard to labor, education, health and urban development.

"They used to sing: 'How can you keep them down on the farm, after they've seen faree!!'

"Now the way it goes is: 'How can you keep them down on the farm, after so Benson freeze!!'

"I happen to think that our fantastically efficient and productive agriculture one of our most precious national assets.

"I want to keep our farm families at the job they know best, and do superbly growing food for hungrey people at home and abroad.

"I spell out my ideas in the Humphrey Family Farm Program Development Act, ich I introduced last August. I think this is a Charter of Hope for our farm unilies.

"At the beginning of my talk, I indulged in a little speculation about the radict of history on this Administration. I find that, as an amateur historian, have company -- although I won't go so far as to call it good company.

"'I predict' said this man, 'that the verdict of history will be that Secretary Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has been one of the best Secretaries of Agriculture our history.

"This high source was none other than Vice-President Nixon -- or rather one of one many Nixons.

There's another Nixon who has private huddles with harried and harassed farm state Republicans, seeking some means of disengagement from Benson's hard-earned unpopularity. When Ezra Taft hears of these huddles, he must mutter to himself:

'Perhaps it is right to dissemble your love -- But why did you kick me downstairs?'

"Yes, this is a Big Deal for the millionaires -- and being a candidate for the Presidency is so costly that the man of modest means has an uphill grind. Maybe the log cabin to the White House road is closed forever -- but I'd like to prove that a man can make it from a family drug store.

"I'll be very frank with you. I may not be the easiest man to nominate. But I ask you to think very seriously about this -- Do you want a candidate who may have a little trouble getting the nomination, but who you know will carry the fight and the issues to the people!"

REMARKS OF SENATOR HUBERT HUMPHREY

Hutchinson, Kansas March 4, 1960

We are meeting tonight in the eighth year of the Ike Age -- the year of the longest Cadillac - the kighest Interest rate - on

When the historians get around to writing about the past seven years, I wonder what they will call it. It certainly isn't a square deal, or a fair deal, or a new deal.

modern Republicans

Lowest Farm Income for 22 pm

My guess is that they 11 borrow a phrase from our teen-agers and call it the Big Deal.

If you're big enough, this is the Administration for you.

you're a millionaire, you can sit in the Cabiner or even/play golf with the President at Augusta.

The biggest of the big dealers have been our two Secretaries of the Treasury -- George "Trickle-Down" Humphrey and Robert "Guard -Our-Gold"

Anderson.

000582

Two generations ago William Jennings Bryan warned us not ( yes thatis) to crucify mankind on a cross of gold. Humphrey and Anderson have sacrificed America's welfare to the golden calf of a The Administ of balanced budget. They have neglected our old people, our young people, our jobless and despairing workers marcond in economically depressed nvinced our business-minded press that 4,000,000 unemployed is just normal good business. That's the kind of 'normalcy It just won't do when we're in a no-holds-barred contest with the hard-driving purposeful Soviet economy.

This neglect they have compounded with waste -- waste of the fabulous productive capacity of our economy.

White the facility of the facility signs of growing at the old-fashioned Democratic rate, they take do put on the bracker with tight-money, high-interest rate policies _ and loud cries of Inflation Yes, they're a lot of Big Dealers who sit down with Ike in the White House. They deal out fat favors to their septimble friends.

But they need Dealers" as well, and the high priest of the Raw Deal" is none other than Ezra Taft Benson.
When Republicans are campaigning out here on the plains, they like to pretend that Benson is the little man who isn't there.
"He isn't there again today," they assure us, and then they mutter under their breath: "I wish that man would go away."
But he's still there as the farmers of American know to their cost.
We've had farm programs that called for crops being plowed under. But this is one that's aimed at plowing farmers under and redeposition from the form ( Facts) Benson's policies have brought us to the point where farmers and their children feel that there is no hope for them on the land.

Thus have paved the way for the seizure of America's vast acres of agricultural land by corporate interests, by corporate powers.

Our people are being softened up for this "Big Grab" by the Madison Avenue boys who control the channels of communication. That is why every other slick magazine you pick up has another article that makes the farmer the whipping boy for wasteful, eroding farm policies.

And these GOP_"Garbled Old Policies" have not really helped the cities. The farm youngsters driven off the land go to the cities and find no jobs or homes for them there.

There has been no program to prepare the cities for the people or the people for the cities. GOP farm policies are matched by their bankrupt policies in regard to labor, education, health and urban development. What New Nonewstarts—

They used to sing: "How can you keep them down on the farm, after they we seen Parce!"

Now the way it goes is: "Now can you keep them down on the farm, after the Berson freeze!"

I happen to think that our fantastically efficient and productive agriculture is one of our most precious national assets.

I want to keep our farm families at the job they know best, and do superbly -- growing food for hungry people at home and abroad.

//NOTE TO SENATOR: AT THIS POINT YOU MAY WISH TO SUBSTITUTE THE FRESH ST. PAUL MATERIAL WHICH HERB WATERS HAS ON WHAT A PROSPEROUS

FARM ECONOMY WOULD DO FOR MAIN STREET.//

I spelled out my ideas in the Humphrey Family Farm Program Development Act, which I introduced last August. I think this is a

Charter of Hope for our farm families. - Charley Hope ! |

The first is a determination of a fair price for farm commodities and a fair income standard for farmers. Income per farm person is less than half the income per non-farm person. This lop-sided situation can't be changed overnight, but it can be gradually income for farmers -- and this can be accomplished in a way that lessens the tax burden, instead of piling it higher and higher.

#2

The second objective is a production goal. This goal should be determined by what is needed to satisfy the true needs of the American people, the commercial export market, necessary reserves, and foreign policy purposes.

population makes this so.

And this goal should not be met by a deliberate policy of farm deflation, of breaking the farmer's back to reduce production. There are more humane and more effective ways of achieving production goals in agriculture, and they should be used.

( Food Banks - to

Third, we need an agricultural resources conservation program.

This is an integral part of any comprehensive farm program. Any land adjustment program must take into account our present needs - needs of farmers, needs of consumers, needs of rural communities, and needs of generations to come. Every American has a stake in the present and future productivity of our land. Our grave growing

The time when a frontier farmer could "nine his land and move on to another farm -- leaving behind him starved, tree-less, eroded land -- it far in out past. Soil and water resources are vital to national well-being -- and to international well-being.

Therefore, a comprehensive land use program must be based on the facts of both present and potential consumption needs. It must safeguard the well-being of x the family farmer. An agricultural resources conservation program is the heart of a sound, forward-looking farm program.

Fourth, we should have employment goals for American agriculture. These goals should envisage a farm population, and especially farm families, which have adequate opportunity to be fully and usefully employed on our farms. They should include proper credit facilities to strengthen the operation of the family-type farm.

They should also include employment opportunities for those within the farm population who may wish to transfer to other occupations.

At the beginning of my talk, I indulged in a little speculation about the verdict of history on this Administration. I find that, as an amateur historian, I have company -- although I won't go so far as to call it good company.

"I predict," said this man, "that the verdict of history will be that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has been one of the best Secretaries of Agriculture in our history."

This high Administration source was none other than Vice-President Nixon -- or rather one of the many Nixons.

a Big Deal

and harrassed farm state Republicans, seeking some means of disengagement from Benson's hard-earned unpopularity.

That Englished Harris Was and

The bears of these huddles, he must mutter to himself:

On every disease to dissemble your love - But why

Hardrehalds of the dissemble your love - But why

Add you kisk me downstairs?"

for the millionaires and being a candidate for the Presidency is so costly that the man of modest means has an up-hill grind. Maybe the log cabin to White House road is closed for ever -- but I'd like to prove that a man can make it from a family drug store.

I'M be frank with you. I may not be the easiest man to nominate.

But I ask you to think very seriously about this -- do you want a candidate who may have a little trouble getting the nomina-New Beam this fate defort tion but who you know will carry the fight and the issues to

Young lawyer wrote to uncle - wanted to come to So DAK De Said In Honestelauger, + Droc Democrat unile said come on faill be the only one (Lawyen) Ithe game Saws will Proled you as a Lamourite This is a Democratic Fr "court House to white House" Bensonites worse than O & " Sherman an Georgia Gocusts in China"

Minnesota Historical Society

Copyright in this digital version belongs to the Minnesota Historical Society and its content may not be copied without the copyright holder's express written permission. Users may print, download, link to, or email content, however, for individual use.

To request permission for commercial or educational use, please contact the Minnesota Historical Society.

