

I can't think of a more appropriate place to read this headline from the financial pages of the New York Times:

You fellows best thing for Economy - since tax cut!

KODAK'S EARNINGS INCREASED BY 41%

The news story points out that "sales of photographic film, papers and chemicals...were "well above" earlier levels, although amateur color movie film "held nearly even."

You see, it's the professionals---~~the men in this~~ in industry or Govt

room tonight---who are bringing all this wonderful prosperity to Eastman Kodak.

Now I haven't had any recent reports from the Nikkon Company in Japan...but I have instructed my broker.....

I don't know what's coming over the Washington Press Corps these days. Why, they're holding spirited elections. The National Press Club kicked over the escalator system. And I understand Maurice Johnson defeated George Tames for the Vice Presidency, yet, by one vote. Recount!!

This sounds contagious. It may even infect the White House Correspondents Association---or even the Gridiron Club.

#####

I'm glad to see that my old friend Henry Griffin won a Guild award. I was especially pleased by the picture Griff took---you remember, the one with Barry Goldwater poking his finger through a pair of fake glasses.

Boy, did we ever make use of that picture during the campaign.

I don't know what public life would be like without photographers. I know we couldn't have political campaigns without them. And Lord knows any presentation ceremony would be impossible without someone saying, "Would you move in a little closer."

But seriously, I have one request to make of you photographers---PLEASE ---Don't send any more of those pictures of me to "That Was The Week That Was."
