

DEPARTURE STATEMENT
VICE PRESIDENT HUBERT HUMPHREY
WASHINGTON, D. C.
MARCH 26, 1967

I look forward to this mission which the President has asked me to undertake.

During the next two weeks I will meet and confer with many of our European friends and allies.

I will discuss with them matters and policies which affect the security and well-being of the Atlantic nations and of other nations in the world.

I hope to reinforce the bonds of respect, of common heritage, and of common interest which have for so long held us together. I set forth / ready to explain and ready to listen.

I know I shall carry with me to the people of Europe the friendship and good wishes of the people of America.
