

REMARKS BY SENATOR HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

ST. JOHN'S UNIVERSITY

Jamaica, New York

November 4, 1971

It is an extreme honor for me to accept this degree which bears the name of one of the most prestigious universities in our nation. A university earns its prestige through a slow and delicate process of total devotion to the general goal of educating the human mind.

When St. John's University was first conceived, its foundation was already built. It had the principles of the Family of St. Vincent to follow and uphold. When Vincent de Paul formed his "double family," he propagated a movement of service to the poor throughout the world. After his death, the work of his followers has throughout history become synonymous with charity in its highest sense -- life and service for every man.

Fathers Edward M. Smith and John T. Landry, founders of St. John's University, applied this Vincentian sense of service to the field of higher education. Through compelling belief in their own faith and in humanity, they established this fine university, which today is an exemplary institution in the field of education.

Certainly, in this time of profound human need, it is essential that education should mold not only the skills of men, but that it should also reach out to their spirit and will, challenging them with the opportunity and demand for a better world in which all our people can enjoy lives of meaning, of purpose, and of fulfillment.

It must have been true that the Dominicans had this vision of a better world. Men could be developed to their full potential.

But I submit to you that this vision, this opportunity for educating the whole person, is facing a severe challenge today. The challenge of facts and figures and the challenge of our on-rushing mode of society.

There must be a total redefinition of institutional purposes, a sharp upgrading in the quality of curriculum and methods of teaching, and a total re-evaluation of the administration and employment of resources by our centers of higher learning.

But we cannot begin to address these demands unless we immediately solve the problems of escalating enrollments and potential bankruptcy facing many of our colleges.

The student enrollment increase in public institutions has jumped over 163 percent between 1960 to 1970. There will be between 9 to 10 million students enrolled by 1975 in public and private universities.

While the proportion of young people from our low-income families, who have been entering college has increased over the past decade, it is still true that only 7 percent of all our college students come from poor families. We have a long way to go in providing higher education opportunities for the black and the poor. Many of our colleges are straining their financial resources to expand these opportunities, but it is deeply disturbing that our black colleges are generally in extremely poor financial condition.

Diversity and full access opportunity ought to be the hallmark of American higher education, a principle clearly enumerated in the President's Task Force on Education in its report of August, 1970.

"The diversity of American higher education is central to its strength. This diversity has grown from a tradition that encourages institutional initiative, creativity, self-determination, and autonomy. These characteristics are vital to the strength of our institutions and should explicitly be encouraged and strengthened by national policy."

The report moves right on to the second concern I have raised here this evening.

"American institutions are not serving large numbers of qualified young people who could benefit from post high school education. The structure of our society and the patterns of financing higher education for the individual have operated to exclude large numbers of qualified young people from higher education."

I read that as saying that a college education remains primarily the prerogative of the young person from an upper income family. And I find this to be morally, socially, and economically wrong.

Now, the immediate answer to both these problems is substantial federal assistance to all our institutions of higher education.

Let me spell out my immediate concern about sustaining the private, liberal arts colleges of America. I strongly believe that a heterogeneous population, a pluralistic society, demands that there be an equal pluralism in the opportunities for post-secondary education offered our young people.

Over the last century we have experienced a swing in the pendulum away from a strict emphasis upon a liberal arts education and toward an obsession with professionalism and technocracy. In 1828, the Yale College "Manifesto" defined education as being strictly non-technical and non-professional. In 1852, Cardinal Newman defined the "Idea of a University" as being broadly to prepare young men "to fill any post with credit, and to master any subject with facility." It was his belief that a university ought not attempt to provide a professional and technical education.

But today, we too often have replaced this sharp boundary for higher education in America with an equally high fence that sees the demands of a technological society, coupled with the sources of financial assistance which these demands generate, as defining in advance what an American college or university should be all about.

There can be no question that we must continue to expand opportunities for professional, technical, and vocational education in America. One case in point is the serious need to substantially expand the health manpower resources of America, providing more doctors and nurses and para-professional personnel.

But we must also come to recognize again the vital importance of the education of the whole man, which is the genius of the liberal arts curriculum of our private colleges. That is really what we mean when we talk about maintaining the three branches of knowledge for the "A.B. Generalist": The humanities; the physical and biological sciences and mathematics; and the social sciences.

Certainly, St. John's is dedicated to the education of the total person. Its seal with the emblazoned three books -- Religion, Culture, and Knowledge -- personified this pursuit. And the theme of your centennial celebration propels this great challenge into the future: "Question, Believe, Build Tomorrow -- the spirit of the Vincentian priests. They aspire to assist the unsatisfied mind in quest of a broadening education, resulting in the increase of knowledge and the improvement of our world."

We must not let that sense of dedication be sacrificed today.

We must not confuse means and ends in our educational purposes. What do we seek for man on earth? We seek human dignity, personal expression and fulfillment, freedom, and justice. Technology is one instrument by which to achieve these ends. And the value of that tool depends on the intelligence, the judgment, and the creativity of man himself.

Education ought to involve man in ideas as well as things; in ethics as well as engineering.

We need a society of compassion as well as comfort; of humanism as well as hardware; and of freedom as well as food.

It is when ethics and morality shape our environment that science and technology will be seen as an invention to be welcomed, rather than a threat to be feared.

A free society requires more than power and wealth. It must be based on justice and opportunity. The modern industrialized nation needs, too, a sense of compassion and concern -- that sense, if you will, of heightened moral sensibility which stems from the arts and humanities, and from religion.

A true liberal education infuses an element of humility and compassion, of humanism and social consciousness. That lesson is centuries old, as we read in the Book of Micah: "And what does the Lord require of you, but to do justice, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God."

It is for these reasons that I am so deeply concerned that the freedom, the autonomy, and diversity of America's colleges and universities be maintained. I do not believe that government should attempt to dictate the aims of university education. In a Democratic society those who govern, can govern well only if they recognize that the university serves society by pursuing the true aim of the university -- the pursuit and dissemination of truth. It is precisely the independence of the university and the college that enables them to stand in judgment over the actions of government and to speak to the course demanded of a free society.

To maintain a balance between the university's independence and the need for social stability requires a self-disciplined and well-educated citizenry.

I call for the establishment of a major commitment by our federal government to maintaining the strength and diversity of America's institutions of higher education.

I call for substantial federal financial assistance to all our colleges and universities. It is estimated that the resources available to our colleges and universities must more than double during the next decade to a level of $41 billion. And the respected Carnegie Commission on Higher Education has called for a decisive effort to eliminate racial and economic barriers to higher education by 1976.

I believe it is time to inaugurate a major new source of financial assistance that follows the student to the college of his choice. This is why I joined in sponsoring vital legislation that will provide direct federal assistance to students as a matter of right, and on the basis of need. Particular emphasis is placed on creating effective educational opportunities for young persons from low-income families. And, of special importance, student assistance under this legislation would be coupled with cost-of-instruction aid to the respective institution.

This is the decisive new direction we should be taking in federal aid to higher education. I intend to make every possible effort to assure passage of the legislation to accomplish this goal.

Let us resolve here and now to make higher education in America -- private as well as public institutions -- the finest in the world.

We in Congress need your help now if this job is to be done. But you will be committing yourselves to a task of the highest importance to all the people of this great land of opportunity. The charge is laid before us by Thomas Carlyle, in those well-remembered words:

"That there should one man die ignorant who had the capacity for knowledge, this I call a tragedy."

L FATHERS EDWARD M. SMITH AND JOHN T. LANDRY, FOUNDERS OF
ST. JOHN'S UNIVERSITY, APPLIED THIS VINCENTIAN SENSE OF SERVICE
TO THE FIELD OF HIGHER EDUCATION. THROUGH COMPELLING BELIEF IN THEIR OWN FAITH AND IN HUMANITY, THEY ESTABLISHED THIS FINE

Higher

OF A BETTER WORLD, MEN COULD BE DEVELOPED TO THEIR FULL

L But ~~BUT I SUBMIT TO YOU THAT~~ THIS VISION, THIS OPPORTUNITY FOR

TODAY, THE CHALLENGE OF FACTS AND FIGURES AND THE CHALLENGE

OF OUR ON-RUSHING MODE OF SOCIETY. — many of us

L THERE MUST BE A TOTAL REDEFINITION OF INSTITUTIONAL PURPOSES,

A SHARP UPGRADING IN THE QUALITY OF CURRICULUM AND METHODS OF

TEACHING, AND A TOTAL RE-EVALUATION OF THE ADMINISTRATION AND EMPLOYMENT OF RESOURCES BY OUR CENTERS OF HIGHER LEARNING.

L BUT WE CANNOT BEGIN TO ADDRESS THESE DEMANDS UNLESS WE IMMEDIATELY SOLVE THE PROBLEMS OF ESCALATING ENROLLMENTS AND POTENTIAL BANKRUPTCY FACING MANY OF OUR COLLEGES.

L THE STUDENT ENROLLMENT INCREASE IN PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS
HAS JUMPED OVER 163 PERCENT BETWEEN 1960 TO 1970 THERE WILL BE BETWEEN 9 TO 10 MILLION STUDENTS ENROLLED BY 1975 IN PUBLIC to educational DIVERSITY AND FULL ACCESS OPPORTUNITY OUGHT TO BE THE HALLMARK OF AMERICAN HIGHER EDUCATION. ~~A PRINCIPLE CLEARLY~~

~~ENUMERATED IN THE PRESIDENT'S TASK FORCE ON EDUCATION IN ITS REPORT OF AUGUST, 1970.~~

The President's task force on higher education reminds us that -

"THE DIVERSITY OF AMERICAN HIGHER EDUCATION IS CENTRAL

TO ITS STRENGTH. THIS DIVERSITY HAS GROWN FROM A TRADITION

THAT ENCOURAGES INSTITUTIONAL INITIATIVE, CREATIVITY,

SELF-DETERMINATION, AND AUTONOMY. THESE CHARACTERISTICS

ARE VITAL TO THE STRENGTH OF OUR INSTITUTIONS AND SHOULD

EXPLICITLY BE ENCOURAGED AND STRENGTHENED BY NATIONAL POLICY."

L THE REPORT MOVES RIGHT ON TO THE SECOND CONCERN I HAVE RAISED HERE THIS EVENING.

"AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS ARE NOT SERVING LARGE NUMBERS OF

QUALIFIED YOUNG PEOPLE WHO COULD BENEFIT FROM POST HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION.

h THE STRUCTURE OF OUR SOCIETY AND THE PATTERNS OF

FINANCING HIGHER EDUCATION FOR THE INDIVIDUAL

HAVE OPERATED TO EXCLUDE LARGE NUMBERS OF QUALIFIED YOUNG PEOPLE FROM HIGHER EDUCATION.

h I READ THAT AS SAYING THAT A COLLEGE EDUCATION REMAINS

PRIMARILY THE PREROGATIVE OF THE YOUNG PERSON FROM AN UPPER or middle

INCOME FAMILY. AND I FIND THIS TO BE MORALLY, SOCIALLY, AND ECONOMICALLY WRONG.

h Now, THE IMMEDIATE ANSWER TO BOTH THESE PROBLEMS IS

SUBSTANTIAL FEDERAL ASSISTANCE TO ALL OUR INSTITUTIONS OF

HIGHER EDUCATION.

-8-

So, LET ME SPELL OUT MY IMMEDIATE CONCERN ABOUT SUSTAINING

THE PRIVATE, LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGES OF AMERICA. I STRONGLY

BELIEVE THAT A HETEROGENEOUS POPULATION, A PLURALISTIC SOCIETY,

DEMANDS THAT THERE BE AN EQUAL PLURALISM IN THE OPPORTUNITIES

FOR POST-SECONDARY EDUCATION OFFERED OUR YOUNG PEOPLE.

OVER THE LAST CENTURY, WE HAVE EXPERIENCED A SWING IN THE PENDULUM AWAY FROM A STRICT EMPHASIS UPON A LIBERAL ARTS

EDUCATION AND TOWARD AN OBSESSION WITH PROFESSIONALISM AND

TECHNOCRACY. IN 1828, THE YALE COLLEGE "MANIFESTO" DEFINED

EDUCATION AS BEING STRICTLY NON-TECHNICAL AND NON-PROFESSIONAL.

L IN 1852, CARDINAL NEWMAN DEFINED THE "IDEA OF A UNIVERSITY"

AS BEING BROADLY TO PREPARE YOUNG MEN ^A TO FILL ANY POST WITH

CREDIT, AND TO MASTER ANY SUBJECT WITH FACILITY; ¹¹ IT WAS

HIS BELIEF THAT A UNIVERSITY OUGHT NOT ATTEMPT TO PROVIDE A

PROFESSIONAL AND TECHNICAL EDUCATION,

L BUT TODAY, WE TOO OFTEN HAVE REPLACED THIS "SHARP BOUNDARY" FOR HIGHER EDUCATION ~~REPLACED~~ WITH AN EQUALLY HIGH FENCE THAT

SEES THE DEMANDS OF A TECHNOLOGICAL SOCIETY, COUPLED WITH THE

SOURCES OF FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE WHICH THESE DEMANDS GENERATE,

AS DEFINING IN ADVANCE WHAT AN AMERICAN COLLEGE OR UNIVERSITY

SHOULD BE ALL ABOUT!

-10-

✓ THERE CAN BE NO QUESTION THAT WE MUST CONTINUE TO EXPAND
OPPORTUNITIES FOR PROFESSIONAL, TECHNICAL, AND VOCATIONAL EDUCATION IN AMERICA. ✓ ONE CASE IN POINT IS THE SERIOUS NEED TO SUBSTANTIALLY EXPAND THE HEALTH MANPOWER RESOURCES OF AMERICA, PROVIDING MORE DOCTORS AND NURSES AND PARA-PROFESSIONAL PERSONNEL.
✓ BUT WE MUST ALSO COME TO RECOGNIZE AGAIN THE VITAL IMPORTANCE OF THE EDUCATION OF THE WHOLE MAN, WHICH IS THE GENIUS OF THE LIBERAL ARTS CURRICULUM OF OUR PRIVATE COLLEGES. ✓ THAT IS REALLY
WHAT WE MEAN WHEN WE TALK ABOUT MAINTAINING THE THREE BRANCHES OF KNOWLEDGE FOR THE "A.B. GENERALIST": THE HUMANITIES;
THE PHYSICAL AND BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES AND MATHEMATICS; AND THE SOCIAL SCIENCES.

L CERTAINLY, ST. JOHN'S IS DEDICATED TO THE EDUCATION OF THE TOTAL PERSON L ITS SEAL WITH THE EMBLAZONED THREE BOOKS -- RELIGION, CULTURE, AND KNOWLEDGE -- PERSONIFIES THIS PURSUIT L AND THE THEME OF YOUR CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION PROPELS THIS GREAT CHALLENGE INTO THE FUTURE: "QUESTION, BELIEVE, BUILD TOMORROW -- THE SPIRIT OF
THE VINCENTIAN PRIESTS L THEY ASPIRE TO ASSIST THE UNSATISFIED
MIND IN QUEST OF A BROADENING EDUCATION, RESULTING IN THE INCREASE OF KNOWLEDGE AND THE IMPROVEMENT OF OUR WORLD."
L WE MUST NOT LET THAT SENSE OF DEDICATION BE SACRIFICED
TODAY.

L WE MUST NOT CONFUSE MEANS AND ENDS IN OUR EDUCATIONAL PURPOSES. L WHAT DO WE SEEK FOR MAN ON EARTH? L WE SEEK HUMAN DIGNITY, PERSONAL EXPRESSION AND FULFILLMENT, FREEDOM,
AND JUSTICE. L TECHNOLOGY IS ONE INSTRUMENT BY WHICH TO ACHIEVE
THESE ENDS. L AND THE VALUE OF THAT TOOL DEPENDS ON THE INTELLIGENCE,
THE JUDGMENT, AND THE CREATIVITY OF MAN HIMSELF.
L EDUCATION OUGHT TO INVOLVE MAN IN IDEAS AS WELL AS THINGS; IN ETHICS AS WELL AS ENGINEERING.
L WE NEED A SOCIETY OF COMPASSION AS WELL AS COMFORT, OF HUMANISM AS WELL AS HARDWARE; AND OF FREEDOM AS WELL AS FOOD.

L IT IS WHEN ETHICS AND MORALITY SHAPE OUR ENVIRONMENT
THAT SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY WILL BE SEEN AS AN INVENTION TO BE WELCOMED, RATHER THAN A THREAT TO BE FEARED,

L A FREE SOCIETY REQUIRES MORE THAN POWER AND WEALTH.

L IT MUST BE BASED ON JUSTICE AND OPPORTUNITY ^{TP} THE MODERN INDUSTRIALIZED NATION NEEDS, TOO, A SENSE OF COMPASSION
AND CONCERN -- THAT SENSE, IF YOU WILL, OF HEIGHTENED MORAL SENSIBILITY WHICH STEMS FROM THE ARTS AND HUMANITIES, AND FROM RELIGION,

L A TRUE LIBERAL EDUCATION INFUSES AN ELEMENT OF HUMILITY AND COMPASSION, OF HUMANISM AND SOCIAL CONSCIOUSNESS.

-14-

THAT LESSON IS CENTURIES OLD, AS WE READ IN THE BOOK OF MICAH:

"AND WHAT DOES THE LORD REQUIRE OF YOU, BUT TO DO JUSTICE, AND

TO LOVE MERCY, AND TO WALK HUMBLY WITH YOUR GOD."

IT IS FOR THESE REASONS THAT I AM SO DEEPLY CONCERNED

THAT THE FREEDOM, THE AUTONOMY, AND DIVERSITY OF AMERICA'S

COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES BE MAINTAINED, I DO NOT BELIEVE THAT

GOVERNMENT SHOULD ATTEMPT TO DICTATE THE AIMS OF UNIVERSITY

EDUCATION. IN A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY THOSE WHO GOVERN, CAN

GOVERN WELL ONLY IF THEY RECOGNIZE THAT THE UNIVERSITY SERVES

SOCIETY BY PURSUING THE TRUE AIM OF THE UNIVERSITY -- THE PURSUIT AND DISSEMINATION OF Knowledge & Truth.

L IT IS PRECISELY THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE UNIVERSITY AND THE COLLEGE THAT ENABLES THEM TO STAND IN JUDGMENT OVER THE ACTIONS
OF GOVERNMENT AND TO SPEAK TO THE COURSE DEMANDED OF A FREE SOCIETY.

L TO MAINTAIN A BALANCE BETWEEN THE UNIVERSITY'S INDEPENDENCE
AND THE NEED FOR SOCIAL STABILITY REQUIRES A SELF-DISCIPLINED
AND WELL-EDUCATED CITIZENRY.

L I CALL FOR THE GOVERNMENT A MAJOR COMMITMENT BY OUR FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO MAINTAINING THE STRENGTH AND DIVERSITY OF AMERICA'S INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER EDUCATION.

-16-

I CALL FOR SUBSTANTIAL FEDERAL FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO ALL
OUR COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES. IT IS ESTIMATED THAT THE RESOURCES AVAILABLE TO OUR COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES MUST MORE THAN DOUBLE DURING THE NEXT DECADE TO A LEVEL OF $41 BILLION. AND,
THE RESPECTED CARNEGIE COMMISSION ON HIGHER EDUCATION HAS CALLED FOR A DECISIVE EFFORT TO ELIMINATE RACIAL AND ECONOMIC BARRIERS TO HIGHER EDUCATION BY 1976. We can - We must.

and I BELIEVE IT IS TIME TO INAUGURATE A MAJOR NEW SOURCE OF FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE THAT FOLLOWS THE STUDENT TO THE COLLEGE
OF HIS CHOICE. THIS IS WHY, I JOINED IN SPONSORING VITAL LEGISLATION THAT WILL PROVIDE DIRECT FEDERAL ASSISTANCE TO STUDENTS AS A MATTER OF RIGHT, AND ON THE BASIS OF NEED.

-17-

L PARTICULAR EMPHASIS IS PLACED ON CREATING EFFECTIVE EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG PERSONS FROM LOW-INCOME FAMILIES.

L AND, OF SPECIAL IMPORTANCE, STUDENT ASSISTANCE UNDER THIS LEGISLATION WOULD BE COUPLED WITH COST-OF-INSTRUCTION AID TO THE RESPECTIVE INSTITUTION.

L THIS IS THE DECISIVE NEW DIRECTION WE SHOULD BE TAKING IN

FEDERAL AID TO HIGHER EDUCATION. This is the Direction ~~I INTEND TO MAKE EVERY~~

we are taking tonight. ~~POSSIBLE EFFORT TO ASSURE PASSAGE OF THE LEGISLATION TO~~ ~~ACCOMPLISH THIS GOAL.~~

LET US RESOLVE HERE AND NOW TO MAKE HIGHER EDUCATION IN AMERICA -- PRIVATE AS WELL AS PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS -- THE FINEST IN THE WORLD.

-18-

~~WE IN CONGRESS NEED YOUR HELP NOW IF THIS JOB IS TO BE~~ ~~DONE. BUT YOU WILL BE COMMITTING YOURSELVES TO A TASK OF THE~~
~~HIGHEST IMPORTANCE TO ALL THE PEOPLE OF THIS GREAT LAND OF~~ ~~OPPORTUNITY.~~ THE CHARGE IS LAID BEFORE US BY THOMAS CARLYLE,

IN THOSE WELL-REMEMBERED WORDS:

"THAT THERE SHOULD ONE MAN DIE IGNORANT WHO HAD THE CAPACITY FOR KNOWLEDGE, THIS I CALL A TRAGEDY."
